Dear Director,

In the midst of the fast-paced or rapid growth of the information technology in general in a globalized economy, there exists an imperative need to impart knowledge to the elementary and high school students with basic or advanced computer literacy skills.

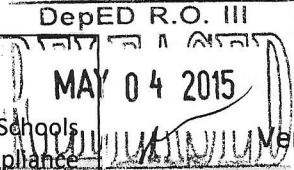

Our enterprise hereby offers an affordable and short term COMPUTER LITERACY PROGRAM to high school and elementary students within the jurisdiction of your good office to acquire and hone their computer literacy skills in coordination with an accredited institution equipped with better facilities conducive to an enhanced computer education together with their academic studies. The parents will find said program relevant and beneficial to the academic pursuits of their children in the elementary and high schools.

Our enterprise will conduct qualifying exams for the participating elementary and high schools students and those who will pass will be provided with a module of hands-on computer literacy instruction interspersed with periodic quizzes to test competency and to serve as helpful guides for an improved computer literacy program.

We will be profoundly for the preferential and favorable action of your good office on the above relevant and worthy program.

Thank you and warmest regards.
